1. Welcome Message

Dear Karateka, dear guests,

The Bavarian Para-Karate Open can now look back on over a decade of success. Started under the motto "We also make Karate", it became an international tournament in 2008, which was visited and enthusiastically received by leading figures such as the former DOSB and today IOC Chairman Dr. Thomas Bach and WKF President Antonio Espinos. This tournament was a test field for the WKF, which then presented itself in 2012 with a first demonstration tournament at the World Championships in Paris, 2014 for officially at the World Championships in Bremen with the Para-Karate.

After the application for the Paralympic Games, it is important to continue working for people with disabilities and to show a national and international presence. In addition to the WKF's explicitly competition- and performance-oriented Para competitions with a limited field of participants, there will also be competitions in the nations that appeal to the masses. One such tournament is the Bavarian Open, which therefore does not require classification and is open to a wider range of disabilities. In this way experiences can be gained and used to open the door for official international competitions to more people with disabilities in the WKF in the future.

Our thanks go to the sponsors "Aktion Mensch" and "SBJ", who enable us to offer high-quality competitions. I would also like to refer to the description of our sponsors in this bulletin.

Our thanks also go to the initiator and motor of the competition scene, Walter Sosniok, and his team, who will once again ensure that everything runs smoothly. But also the TSV Erding e.V., whose department manager Irmgard Borgs and her team will certainly contribute to the success of this tournament, will actively help. My thanks and ours also go to them.

I wish the event a successful course and the participants a lot of fun at the Bavarian Para-Karate Open 2019!

Wolfgang Weigert

President of the Bavarian Karate Association e.V.
President of the German Karate Federation e.V.
WKF Vice President and Commissioner for Para-Karate

2. Erding

Erding has about 37,000 inhabitants and is an old Bavarian duke town, 36 kilometers northeast of Munich's eastern city border and 36 kilometers southwest of Landshut. Erding is a large district town in the district of the same name in the administrative district of Upper Bavaria and has been a major centre since 2016.

History

The district of Altham was first mentioned in a document in 742: a member of the Agilolfingen family donated Altham to the Benediktbeuern monastery. The settlement Ardeingas (corresponds to "Erding") was first mentioned in a document in 788. In 1228 Erding was granted city rights by Duke Ludwig of Bavaria; the city (Duke's City) was deliberately built as a ducal base opposite the high monastery Freising on the main road Schongau-Munich-Landshut.

In 1503 Erding was conquered by Duke Albrecht IV of Bavaria-Munich in the Bavarian War of Succession. With effect from 1 January 2013, Erding was elevated to the status of a large district town. Erding is one of the most promising communities in Germany, also because of its close location at Munich Airport.

Sightseeing

Due to its long, eventful history and the numerous, different rulers and the excellent location between Munich and Salzburg, Erding is rich in various monuments from various eras, museums, churches and leisure facilities.

The Erding brewery is also internationally renowned, making the "Erdinger Weißbier" one of Bavaria's best-known and most successful specialities worldwide.

7. Our Sponsors

Gefördert durch die

AKTION MENSCH

Aktion Mensch is committed to inclusion. What does that mean? People with and without disabilities should live together as a matter of course: at school, at work and in their free time. They should decide for themselves how they want to live. And they should have the opportunity to show their abilities. In order for everyone to be present everywhere, barriers must disappear. This means, for example: where there are stairs, there must also be ramps or elevators. Texts from offices or information on the Internet should be easy to read.

With the proceeds from its social lottery, Aktion Mensch supports up to 1,000 social projects for people with disabilities, children and young people every month. This makes it the largest social support organisation in Germany. With actions and campaigns, it informs people about living together as a matter of course.

Aktion Mensch has been in existence for more than 50 years. Since its foundation, it has achieved a lot - together with its partners from Freie Wohlfahrtspflege and ZDF. The living conditions of people with disabilities have improved significantly over the years. Aktion Mensch was able to pass on around 3.9 billion euros to social projects. This is only possible because around four million people regularly take part in the lottery.

Everyone can simply help people with disabilities to live better and become more inclusive: by buying a ticket, volunteering or starting a project. For the "WE" to win.
